ABSTRACT

SCREEN PANEL

A screen panel for mining and quarrying industries adapted to be mounted on a screen deck, including a screening surface made up of materials such as herein described formed on a reinforcing, said screening surface having suitably designed apertures of desired shape for allowing materials of desired size to pass through, said, said reinforcing being an external reinforcing (2), whereby screening efficiency of said screen panel is substantially enhanced.

[FIG. 2]