Abstract

The present invention relates to specific binding antibodies targeting fibroblast growth factor receptor 2b (FGFR2b), antibody drug conjugates, and methods of use thereof, and compositions containing the same. The anti-FGFR2b antibodies, conjugates thereof, or compositions thereof can be used as an independent therapy or in combination with other therapies and/or other anti-cancer agents, for example, in the treatment of cancer/tumors.

[No Suitable Figure]