ABSTRACT

A beam failure recovery method is performed by a terminal and includes performing a beam failure detection on a plurality of Transmit/Receive Points (TRPs) of the terminal, in response to the terminal being configured with the plurality of TRPs; and triggering a random access-based beam failure recovery in response to detecting that there is a first TRP on which a beam failure occurs among the plurality of TRPs.

FIG. 2