Bleach systems enveloped with polymer layers

Abstract

The invention relates to a bleach system comprising at least one component selected from bleach, bleach activator or bleach catalyst, wherein the bleach system is enveloped with at least one polymer layer and the polymer has urethane and urea groups.

The inventive bleach system and detergent formulations comprising this bleach system are suitable for washing or cleaning textiles or dishware.