Observation and image transmission system notably for surface naval drone, and associated naval drone.

The observation and image transmission system for surface naval drone comprises an observation device 24 provided with a support deck 35, an optronics assembly 32 which comprises a plurality of cameras 34 mounted on the support deck 35, and a central management unit for the optronics assembly 32. The central management unit is able to control the cameras 34 according to different surveillance modes.

Reference: Figure 3.