ABSTRACT

AUXILIARY LENSES FOR PRESCRIPTION LENSES

A pair of prescription auxiliary lenses adapted to the releasably attached to a pair of spectacles, the pair of spectacles comprising a pair of main lenses; each of the main lenses being progressive, prescription lenses having an upper portion for distance viewing, a central portion for intermediate viewing, and a lower portion for reading viewing; the pair of auxiliary lenses being for overlaying and changing the focal length of the upper portion to that of the central portion.

Figure 2