ABSTRACT

A method for a downlink control information (DCI) size alignment, performed by a terminal, is provided. The method includes: determining that a size of first DCI for scheduling uplink data of a plurality of cells and a size of second DCI for scheduling downlink data of the plurality of cells are aligned.

FIG. 1