ABSTRACT

METHOD FOR PRODUCING FAST DRYING MULTI-COMPONENT WATERBORNE COATING COMPOSITIONS

The invention relates to a method for producing a fast drying two or multi-component waterborne coating on a surface of a substrate. The method comprises applying a first component comprising a binder and a second component, being separate from the first component prior to application, comprising an absorber, and compositions and/or formulations prepared therefrom.