METHOD AND DEVICE FOR CANCELLING ANONYMIZATION FOR AN AREA INCLUDING A TARGET

Abstract

In an aspect, there is provided method for cancelling anonymization for an area including a target in an input image, the input image including a plurality of identified subjects, the method comprising: retrieving historical images in which the target has appeared in;

identifying an area by comparing the input image and the retrieved historical images to determine if the target has interacted with at least one of the identified subjects ; and cancelling anonymization for the area including the target.

Fig 11