ABSTRACT:

"A fencing system"

A fencing system comprising an elongate fence post having at least one channel extending along the fence post; and at least one fixing means engagable within the channel, the fixing means and the channel having co-operating means to secure the fixing means in the channel, the fixing means further having a fence receiving portion for enclosing a part of fencing to secure the fencing between the fence post and the fixing means.

Figure 1