Abstract

Device for reducing the drive power requirements of a watercraft

According to the invention a device (100) is provided for reducing the drive power requirement of a watercraft comprising a fore-nozzle (10), wherein at least one outer fin (20) projects outwards from the fore-nozzle (10).

Fig. 5