(54) Title: MODIFYING A SHIP ROUTE

(57) Abstract: The present disclosure relates to modifying a ship route, comprising: at a user interface, presenting a map (2) comprising a proposed future route (1a) for a ship (3); via the user interface, receiving input from a user, the input including at least one request for modifying a route property of the presented route and/or at least one request for modifying a predefined constraint on a ship property among a plurality of predefined constraints on ship properties; at a processing device, recalculating the proposed route based on the received request(s) and on the predefined constraints on ship properties; and, at the user interface, presenting the recalculated route (1b) on the map.
