Inhaler

Abstract:

An inhaler is proposed for the propellant-free nebulisation of a medicament preparation. The inhaler produces an aerosol at low speed. The inhaler is combined with an add-on device for intermediate storage of the aerosol produced, so as to allow easier inhalation, particularly for children.

(Fig. 3)