BUSINESS
Computer Consulting Agreement: Code: 3 Price: $AUD150.00 Order
In this day and age when computers and computer technology are dominating commerce, more businesses need to retain the use of computer experts to provide computer solutions to their business needs. Whilst contracts can be enforceable if oral, to avoid misunderstanding and provide a road map for the parties to follow for attainment of their shared goals, a Computer Consulting Agreement in writing is well worth considering.
It will set out the names of the parties and any trading entities they are using, a schedule of what works are to be done (which can be particularised as to the level of performance and standard required, how much will be paid and the time for the works to be completed). Whilst there will be many circumstances when the Agreement will need to be varied to suit different circumstances, the core Computer Consulting Agreement will act as a very useful working draft for the parties to develop their own unique agreement in consultation with their own attorney, or by e-mailing us for a customised agreement.
