(54) Title: ADAPTABLE CONTAINER ON A BELT AND BELT COMPRISING SUCH A CONTAINER

FIG. 3

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a device for allowing a user to consume a liquid without interrupting the user's sport activity. The device comprises a container for containing a liquid, a belt member connected to the container for securing the container to the user's waist, and a tube connected to the container for allowing the user to consume the liquid contained in the container.
