Abstract

The present invention concerns a pharmaceutical combination preparation comprising 250 - 20,000 U of an EPO preparation in individual forms of administration and 5 - 20 mg of a Fe(III) complex wherein the EPO preparation and the Fe(III) complex can be present in separate forms of administration or in a uniform form of administration.

The pharmaceutical preparation is used to treat anaemias or haemodialysis patients.