

Abstract:

Underwater rapid unloading system having a container (20) which can be carried on the outer side of a submarine and a carrier frame (30) which is supported inside the container, wherein the carrier frame can be completely deployed out of the container. A disposable palette (40) is arranged on the carrier frame and can be connected to the carrier frame.

(Figure 5)