Methods for the semi-synthetic production of high purity "minicircle" DNA vectors from plasmids

Abstract

The invention relates to methods and re-agents for producing DNA vectors, in particular minicircle (MC) DNA vectors, in superhelical form. The invention further relates to highly pure preparations of circular DNA vectors, in particular MC DNA vectors.

Figure 6