ABSTRACT

Method of Enabling Access to Data Protected by Firewall

Methods of enabling access to data using a portable electronic device within a private network protected by firewall are disclosed. The data may be transmitted in packets to the portable electronic device and may be consumed either instantly or subsequently. The methods may utilise either at least one web storage or an agent server.

Figure 1

162162

G00002