the mid tube is oriented substantially horizontally relative to the frame when in use.