VIRAL RESISTANT CELLS AND USES THEREOF

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides mammalian cell lines that have been genetically engineered causing such cell lines to be resistant to viral entry and/or propagation, and provides methods of using said cell lines to reduce or prevent viral contamination of biologic production systems.

Fig.1