(54) Title: CONSTRUCTION METHOD

(57) Abstract: There is provided a method of construction, the method comprising locating a track for a mechanical erection working platform (MEWP) within a partial building structure. The track is located such that it is supported by said structure and an MEWP is located in engagement with the track such that it can move within the structure in a guided manner. The MEWP is used to access parts of the structure above the height of the track during the installation of framework members. Also provided is a track assembly.
