ABSTRACT

PROTEIN PURIFICATION

The present invention relates to a process for the purification of an antibody fragment from a periplasmic cell extract comprising a first cation exchange chromatography step and a second anion exchange chromatography step.

(no drawing to be published)