CLAIM

[0001] What is claimed is a system that provides additional twist-locks fixed on a trailer chassis so that containers or ISO tanks can be secured in two alternative positions, one which does not have a buffer between the rear end of a container and the rear end of the trailer chassis, and the other which provides a requisite safety buffer between the rear end of an ISO tank and the rear end of the trailer chassis.