(54) Title: PRE-PACKAGED LIQUID CONTAINER AND CORRESPONDING DEVICE

FIG. 7

(57) Abstract: Pre-packaged liquid container (400) to be used in a device (1000) for the administration of a liquid comprising: • a container upper portion (410) with a container upper wall extending from a first container upper portion base to a second container upper portion base, the container upper portion (410) being configured to contain a basic liquid, and wherein: • said container upper wall comprises, close to said second container upper portion base, a container upper portion thread (412); • said second container upper portion base comprises a mechanically breakable container upper portion membrane (416). The invention also relates to the device which uses the pre-packaged container and the method of use of the device with the pre-packaged container.
