

ABSTRACT

METHOD AND DEVICE FOR ADDITION OF SONG LYRICS

The present disclosure, belongs to the field of information processing, provides a lyric adding method and apparatus. The method includes: receiving a lyrics add instruction for a song accompaniment; searching for lyrics associated with the song accompaniment, and displaying a search result, the search result comprising lyrics information of at least one song accompaniment; displaying, according to a received choosing operation for target lyrics information in the search result, lyric data corresponding to the target lyrics information in a lyric editing interface; acquiring the lyric data displayed in the lyric editing interface; and displaying the lyric data when the song accompaniment is being played. By means of the method according to the present disclosure, even if the lyrics corresponding to the accompaniment are not stored in a song recording application, a user may still input chosen lyric data in the lyric editing interface provided by the song recording application, and may sing the song with reference to the lyric data displayed in a display interface in the process of recording songs, such that flexibility of accompaniment playback and flexibility of song recording are effectively improved.

Figure 1