

42. A method for the treatment or prophylaxis of hepatitis B virus infection, which method comprises administering a therapeutically effective amount of a compound as defined in any one of claims 1 to 34.