

ABSTRACT

LIQUID CRYSTALLINE POLYMER BLENDS WITH IMPROVED
WEAR PROPERTIES

This invention relates to liquid crystalline polymers, having a glass transition temperature of greater than 140°C, blended with tetrafluoroethylene polymers, said blends having improved wear properties.

This Sheet Has Been Replaced

