

ABSTRACT

METHOD FOR INCREASING PROPORTION OF CD56 POSITIVE CELLS

It was an object to provide a method for increasing a 5 proportion of CD56 positive cells in sampled skeletal muscle tissue. The above problem was solved by a method for increasing a proportion of CD56 positive cells in skeletal muscle tissue, including a step of soaking the sampled skeletal muscle tissue in a preservation solution.

10

FIG. 1