(54) Title: BEARING INFORMATION ON A CARD

FIG. 1

(57) Abstract: A financial transaction card is supplemented by position determining means which determines position coordinates for the card. The determined position is compared with a predetermined position stored in the memory to provide bearing data on the predetermined position from the position of the card. The card also includes a display for indicating the bearing. The card is particularly useful for indicating the bearing of the Kaaba from the position of the card.
