ABSTRACT

TONAL CORRECTION OF SPEECH

Tonal correction of speech is provided. Received speech is analyzed and compared to a table of commonly mispronounced phases. These phrases are mapped to the phrase likely intended by the speaker. The phrase determines to be the phrase the user likely intended can be suggested to the user. If the user approves of the suggestion, tonal correction can be applied to the speech before that speech is delivered to a recipient.