

ABSTRACT

A method of controlling a plurality of logistics robots operating within a preset operation boundary comprises the steps of: grouping the plurality of logistics robots to configure a plurality of work groups; and performing a mission defined for each of the configured plurality of work groups by a plurality of logistics robots grouped in a corresponding work group.

Fig. 6