

Abstract

Streamlining IT Resources Management thru Centralized Access Service Orient Architecture (SOA) Utility Block. The streamlining is achieved thru enforcing multiple and heterogeneous application software, to access these common utility software without recreating them at each unique application software.