(54) Title: SYSTEMS AND METHODS OF VENTILATING A TOILET BOWL

Fig. 2

(57) Abstract: A toilet seat ventilation and control system for ventilating and treating odors and particulate from air and toilet bowls. The toilet ventilation system includes a controller configured to selectively activate or deactivate components of the system based on instructions and/or operational states of other components of the system, including sensors configured to detect presence of a person on a toilet seat to activate ventilation and treatment components.
