

Abstract

In a storage device, in particular a piece of baggage or a wallet, having at least one outer surface (12, 14, 16), it is provided that an additional outer layer (2) is provided on the outer surface (12, 14, 16), said layer having at least one three-dimensional protrusion (10) formed therein by means of a thermoforming process and protruding from the outer surface (12, 14, 16).

(Fig. 1)