

AbstractFlexibly adaptable membrane cartridges for the separation of fluids

The present invention relates to novel cartridges and modules for separation of fluid mixtures, especially for gas separation, to a process for production thereof and to a method of use thereof.

5

Figure 2