

ABSTRACTProtective panel for low-temperature fluid processing equipment, and related assembly, equipment, and method

The panel according to the invention comprises a planar body (26) and at least one element (28) for detecting the presence of fluid in gas or liquid form, received in the body (26).

The panel includes at least one element (30) for heating the body (26), received in the body (26).

Figure 3