Box III Text of the abstract
The present invention relates to compositions comprising a soluble activin-binding polypeptide that has the extracellular domain of human ActRIIa. The polypeptide acts as activin-ActRIIa antagonist to promote bone growth and increase bone density in human.