

Abstract

Provided is an aqueous ink composition for writing instruments containing colored resin particles encapsulating a pigment, wherein the ink is not repelled when the aqueous ink composition for writing instruments is used to write on a paper face attached with hand grease or the like, and achieves a uniform density in a drawn line and excellent writing capability. An embodiment of the aqueous ink composition for writing instruments is an aqueous ink composition for writing instruments containing at least a pigment (a) and colored resin particles (A) encapsulating the pigment (a).