

ABSTRACT

A power control system is provided with a plurality of electric appliances and a power control apparatus that 5 controls the operation of the plurality of electric devices.
The plurality of electric devices are grouped into one or a plurality of groups, each group containing a plurality of electric devices, and on the basis of state information of the electric devices, the power control apparatus controls
10 the operation of each electric device by group according to a plurality of sets of control contents prepared ahead of time.

162162

G00002