

Abstract

A floor for a lift cage has a base plate (7), a top plate (8) and a support structure (6) arranged therebetween. The support structure (6) comprises a grating arrangement (10) consisting of a plurality of intersecting profile members (12, 13) standing on edge. For local reinforcement, the support structure (6) additionally comprises a second grating arrangement (11) superimposed on the first arrangement and arranged centrally.

(Fig. 3)