

162162

G00002

ABSTRACT

A LOCK WITH A SMOKE ALARM INTERFACE

A lock operating system comprising a lock which has at least a secure mode and a non secure mode, an alarm (which may be a smoke alarm) and means to operate the lock from the secure mode to the non secure mode upon activation of the alarm. In a variation all addition to this broad form of the invention, deactivation of the alarm may cause the lock to return to the secure mode.

FIG 4