

ABSTRACT

User equipment communicates with a base station apparatus, and the user equipment includes a 5 transmitter that performs transmission to the base station apparatus while performing beam forming using an antenna with directivity; and a controller that controls maximum transmission power of the transmission with the beam forming based on gain of 10 the antenna.

FIG.6