

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to processes for reducing the amount of phorbol esters in the oil and cake produced from Jatropha curcas seed kernels. The invention also relates to the uses of the products of the process for oil, animal feed and anti-microbial, anti-mollusc, anti-tumor or bio-pesticide agents.

Figure 1