ABSTRACT

Method for treating Alzheimer’s disease by regulating intestinal microorganisms

The present invention relates to the treatment of Alzheimer’s disease. Provided is the use of an reagent for regulating the relative abundance of intestinal microorganisms in the preparation of a medicament for treating Alzheimer’s disease in a subjet.

(No Suitable Figure)