Abstract

The present invention relates to a new tablet for sucking containing the active substance ambroxol and having improved properties.