(54) Title: COMPACT HAND HELD DEVICE

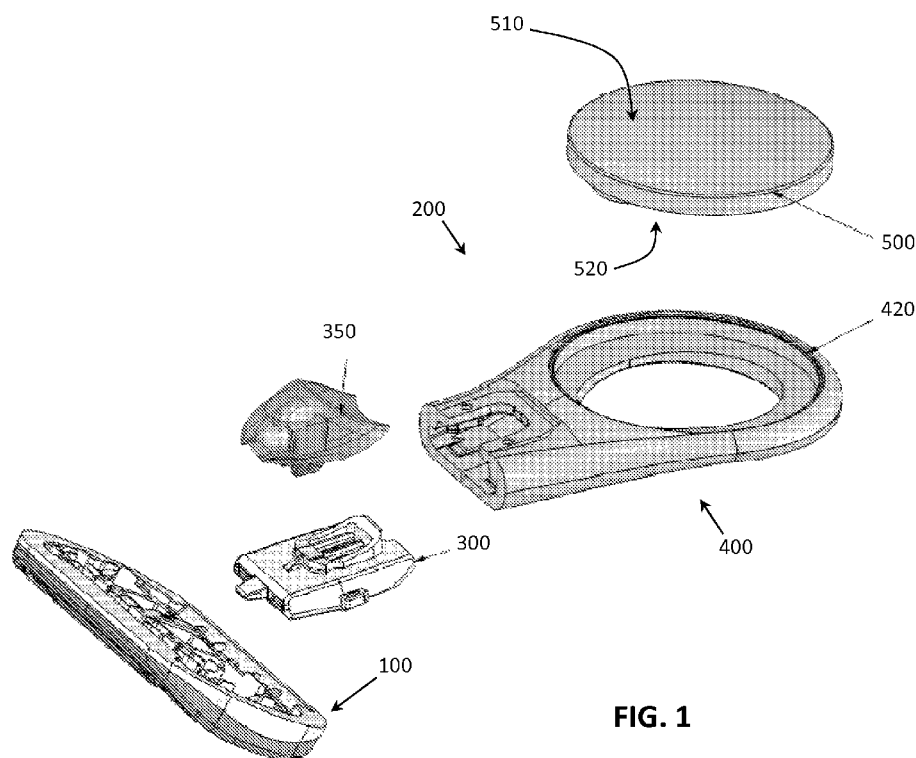

FIG. 1

(57) Abstract: A razor with a relatively short or small handle (200) comprising a substantially flat, disc shaped substrate (500) which preferably includes an elastomeric material, retained in a substrate retaining member (420). The razor handle is compact and disc shaped in nature such that it allows for varying gripping positions by opposing fingers. The razor handle is small and versatile such that it can be easily stored in an enclosable case (800).
