Cancer stem cell inhibition

Abstract

The present invention provides methods for inhibiting the growth and/or proliferation of cancer stem cells, including selectively inhibiting the growth and/or proliferation of cancer stem cells, comprising contacting cancer stem cells with an effective amount of the compound PQ401 (N-(5-chloro-2-methoxyphenyl)-N'-(2-methyl-4-quinolinyl)urea) or a pharmaceutically acceptable derivative or salt thereof.

No Suitable Figure