

This Sheet Has Been Replaced

Abstract

A luminance signal filter for use in a multi-source television receiver, includes a tunable filter (206-220) responsive to a bandwidth control input signal (F_0) for determining the bandwidth of luminance signals applied to said filter and a variable delay circuit (202,204) inversely (232) responsive to said bandwidth control input signal for providing a substantially uniform overall delay for said luminance signal filter.