(54) Title: METHODS FOR DETERMINING AN ACTIVATION SCHEME OF A RADIO COMMUNICATION DEVICE AND RADIO COMMUNICATION DEVICES

(57) Abstract: Various embodiments provide a method for determining an activation scheme of a radio communication device. The method may include determining a plurality of frames according to a multiple access scheme; and determining for each frame of the plurality of frames a first portion of the frame, during which the radio communication device performs communication, and a second portion of the frame during which the radio communication device does not perform communication.
